– Ralph Nader

Ralph Nader was born on 27 February 1934, is an American political activist, author, lecturer, and attorney, noted for his involvement in consumer protection, environmentalism and government reform causes. The son of Lebanese immigrants to the United States, Nader first came to prominence in 1965 with the publication of the bestselling book Unsafe at Any Speed, a critique of the safety record of American automobile manufacturers that became known as one of the most important journalistic pieces of the 20th century. Nader's activism has been directly credited with the passage of several landmark pieces of American consumer protection legislation including the Clean Water Act, Freedom of Information Act, Consumer Product Safety Act, Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, Whistleblower Protection Act and National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. He has been repeatedly named to lists of the "100 Most Influential Americans", including those published by Life Magazine, Time Magazine and The Atlantic, among others. Nader is the author or co-author of more than two dozen books.
