Nature is the mother and the habitat of man, even if sometimes a stepmother and an unfriendly home.

- John Dewey

John Dewey (20 October 1859 – 01 June 1952) was an American philosopher, psychologist and educational reformer whose ideas have been influential in education and social reform. Dewey is one of the primary figures associated with the philosophy of pragmatism and is considered one of the fathers of Functional Psychology. A well-known public intellectual, he was also a major voice of progressive education and liberalism. Although Dewey is known best for his publications about education, he also wrote about many other topics, including epistemology, metaphysics, aesthetics, art, logic, social theory and ethics. He was a major educational reformer for the 20th century.
